Written in 1776, the Declaration of Independence famously proclaims

"That All Men Are Created Equal" . . . but what about the Women?

Dean Madeleine Landrieu (Loyola Law), Dean Marcilynn Burke (Tulane Law), Dean Caprice Roberts (LSU Law), Prof. Saru Matambanadzo (Tulane Law) and Prof. Courtney Turkington (Loyola Law) explore 250 years of American laws affecting the female half of "We the People."

This all-star panel will start with an historic overview of property laws, employment rights, reproductive freedoms, and voting issues, followed by group discussion, moderated by Chloé Chetta (Barrasso Usdin), on where we are now and what the future may hold in the ongoing struggle for women's equality.
